The New Zealand National Bibliography (NZNB) contains catalogue records for the New Zealand imprint. It is produced monthly (12 issues per year). The National Library of New Zealand has responsibility for producing the Bibliography. Most of the material listed is received by the National Library of New Zealand under the Legal Deposit provisions of the National Library Act 1965, Section 30A, amended 1994. It includes New Zealand and Tokelau books, serials, newspapers, music, maps, videos, sound recordings, kits, and pictures. Items are included after they have been received at the National Library. The catalogue records produced meet international standards.

This document contains all the items that have been catalogued during the month of March 2018. The items are grouped under the main subject schedules of the Dewey Decimal Classification system. Within each subject grouping the items are arranged alphabetically by title.

Summary  "This book is about how to live with freedom and ease by feeling more and doing less. It's about learning to align our actions with our real intentions and developing that as an art form. It's about letting go of what doesn't matter. Drawing on various time-honored spiritual traditions - primarily Buddhism and Taoism, but several others are drawn in their wake - this book explores the effortless engagement with life that lies deep in the heart of these traditions" ; "As one example I describe my own training within the traditional Chinese martial art of Wing Chun, which I have found to be Divine Laziness in action. This book also explores the training in moral uprightness and stillness of mind and heart that must form the bedrock of a life of freedom and ease"—Author's website.

Title Living without God(s) : how the modern world responded to the death of God / Peter Dornauf.

Author Dornauf, Peter, author.

Physical Details 238 pages : illustrations (some colour) ; 26 cm

Summary "One of the great cultural shifts of the modern period is the death of God, signalled by Nietzsche in the latter part of the nineteenth century. The demise of belief in any supernatural reality had significant ramifications that spread across Europe and much of the Western world in the twentieth century, touching on every aspect of human life and experience, social, political and personal. In this void, left by the absence of God, modern men and women have inserted a number of substitute gods to plug the gap, replacements that range from art, science and shopping, to philosophy, political revolution, hedonism and others. This book traces the history of that extraordinary event and how it is still playing itself out across the world stage today"--Back cover.

Title  Pursuing peace in Godzone: Christianity and the peace tradition in New Zealand / edited by Geoffrey Troughton and Philip Fountain.
ISBN  9781776561827
Physical Details  269 pages: illustrations (some colour); 21 cm
Summary  "This is a book about peace; specifically, the ways that Christian communities have engaged with peacemaking in New Zealand. Following on from Saints and Stirrers, which examined Christian peacemaking and opposition to war in the period from 1814 to 1945, the focus of Pursuing Peace in Godzone is on the period from the Second World War to the present - the period in which New Zealand’s peaceable image and reputation as ‘God’s Own Country’ grew and flourished. Peace has motivated New Zealand Christians in compelling ways, resulting in some remarkable stories. Some of these stories, such as the protests against war, nuclear testing and the Waihopai surveillance base, have grabbed media attention and attained a degree of notoriety. Others, such as the efforts of various churches to heal rifts in their communities or aid those affected by conflict, have been virtually invisible to all but those most immediately affected. Taken together they reveal a multifaceted but deeply influential thread of Christian peacemaking within New Zealand culture"--Publisher information.

"Blessing is speaking God's intentions or favour over someone or some situation. When we do that in faith, we activate God's power to change a person (ourselves included), or a situation, from where they are now to where God wants them to be. Every Christian has the authority and power to bless others in the name of the Lord and see lives and situations transformed. The power of a blessing is supernatural; it is the presence and work of the Holy Spirit, producing joy, peace, prosperity and fruitfulness; and providing health, success and protection"--Publishers website.

Summary: "Migration is at historically high levels and more than a quarter of the New Zealand population was born overseas. Yet immigration remains a deeply contentious issue, with the debate more often shaped by emotion than evidence. Julie Fry and Peter Wilson have developed a new framework that broadens the scope of how we consider migration policy. Rather than just considering the effect of migration on GDP, they look at factors such as the Treaty of Waitangi. Their goal? Migration policy that acknowledges the complexity of the world we all inhabit."--Publisher information.

Title: Conflict, negotiation, and coexistence: rethinking human-elephant relations in South Asia / edited by Piers Locke, Jane Buckingham.

ISBN: 0199467226

9780199467228

Physical Details: x, 366 pages: illustrations; 23 cm

Summary: "As formidable instruments of war, they have changed the destinies of empires. As marauding crop-raiders, they are despised. As an endangered species, they are cherished. Numerous and often contrasting are the ways in which elephants have been regarded by humans across..."
millennia. Today, with reduced forest cover, human population expansion, and increasing industrialization, interaction between the two species is unavoidable and conflict is not mere happenstance. What, then, is the future of this relationship? In South Asia, human-elephant relationships resonate with cultural significance. From the importance of elephants in ancient texts to the role of mahouts over centuries, from discussions on de-extinction to accounts of intimate companionship, the essays in this book reveal the various dynamics of the relationship between two intelligent social mammals. Eschewing such binaries as human and animal or nature and culture, the essays present elephants as subjective agents who think, feel, and emote. Conflict, Negotiation, and Coexistence underscores the fact that we cannot understand elephant habitat and behaviour in isolation from the humans who help configure it. Significantly, nor can we understand human political, economic, and social life without the elephants that shape and share the world with them."--Dust cover.

Title  Feverish : a memoir / Gigi Fenster.
Author  Fenster, Gigi, author.
ISBN  9781776561803
Physical Details  269 pages ; 21 cm
Summary  "Swaziland is where you think, for the first time, maybe if I got brain fever I would be able to stop worrying. I’d lose control and, maybe then, I’d understand my friend’s mind. In an attempt to break free from rationality and make her life a work of art, Gigi Fenster decides to induce a fever in herself. Fever, she surmises, is a ‘particularly writerly thing’. What follows is a captivating memoir of that attempt. Feverish ranges over Fenster’s childhood in South Africa, her relationships with her psychiatrist father, her troubled friend Simon, and her mother and four siblings, through to New Zealand and her relationships with her two teenage daughters. As she traverses her life, Fenster asks questions about bravery, transgression, vulnerability and the value we place on art. This memoir is a witty, intelligent, original examination of what it means to be a compassionate human being. ‘Without empathy,’ she writes, ‘one cannot tell the full story. There can be no proper care’"—Back cover.

Author  Caughey, Angela, 1930- author.
ISBN  9781877429262
Projected Publication Date  1805
Physical Details  pages cm
Summary  "When carers and the people they care for engage in good communication, frustrations and stress are minimised. Good communication enables carers to manage most challenges in a positive and respectful way. The book provides practical strategies that are easy to implement when dealing with some commonly encountered problems drawn from real-life experience. It explains what works, what doesn’t, and why. It also shows how to use language effectively, how to implement critical listening skills, and how to interpret body language"--Publisher information.

Author  McLeay, E. M. (Elizabeth M.), author.

Physical Details  254 pages 21 cm
Summary  "In a series of backroom negotiations in 1956, the National Government and Labour Opposition agreed to put aside adversarial politics temporarily and entrench certain significant electoral rules. For any of these rules to be amended or repealed, Section 189 of the Electoral Act (now Section 268 of the 1993 Act) requires the approval of either three-quarters of all MPs or a majority of electors voting in a referendum. The MPs believed this entrenchment put in place a 'moral' constraint to guide future parliaments – but its status has changed over time. In Search of Consensus tells the story of why and how such a remarkable political settlement happened. It traces and analyses the Act’s protected provisions, subsequent fortunes and enduring legacy. As such, it is an important contribution to understanding the contemporary constitution and political culture of Aotearoa New Zealand"--Publisher information.

Series: Cambridge imperial and post-colonial studies series.
Summary: "Explores how public commentary framed Australian involvement in the Waikato War (1863-64), the Sudan Crisis (1885), and the South African War (1899-1902), a succession of conflicts that reverberated around the British Empire and which the newspaper press reported at length. It reconstructs the ways these conflicts were understood and reflected in the colonial and British press, and how commentators responded to the shifting circumstances that shaped the mood of their coverage. Studying each conflict in turn, the book explores the expressions of feeling that arose within and between the Australian colonies and Britain. It argues that settler and imperial narratives required constant defending and maintaining."-- Provided by publisher.

Summary "Pippa Carvell lives in Wellington, New Zealand with her dog Skufi and a "don't mess with me" attitude. At the age of 25 she was the youngest person in the Southern Hemisphere to be diagnosed with Parkinson's disease, and later was also diagnosed with Chronic Demyelinating Polyneuropathy which left her partially paralysed. Nearly 20 years on, she speaks about a courageous and challenging life, determined to conquer adversity. Pippa's memoir is one that exposes us to the realities of living daily with disability. Her story motivates us to think beyond ourselves and confronts the need for New Zealand to embrace real change in its healthcare system and societal attitude towards disability"--Back cover.

A lifetime behind bars / Dean Wickliffe.

Dean Wickliffe is a notorious New Zealand criminal and prison escapee. He is the only person to have escaped Paremoremo Maximum Security Prison, D Block, on two occasions. He is an 'old school' criminal who fought for prisoner rights while serving a total of more than 41 years behind bars. Never narking on anyone or compromising his code of ethics to save himself, he earned the respect of prisoners and those who guarded him. Dean was convicted of murdering Wellington jeweller, Paul Miet in an armed robbery in 1972. At retrial 15 years later the charges were reduced to manslaughter, but his life sentence remained, a decision that Dean could not accept. Dean was released in 1995, but was later found guilty of murdering gang leader Richard Bluett. This conviction was quashed in 1998 and he was acquitted at retrial. In April 2010, Dean was sentenced to 2 years and 9 months for drug and firearms offences. And after being released, he again offended and was arrested for the manufacture and possession of methamphetamine for supply, and was sentenced to a further 7 years imprisonment. He was paroled, 24 May 2017"--Back cover.

Title  The wild side : true story of betrayal, grief, meth-addiction, paranormal activity and redemption / Janet Balcombe.
Author Balcombe, Janet, 1967- author.
ISBN 9780473411336
Physical Details xii, 211 pages : illustrations ; 22 cm
Summary "There is hope for the addicts, the rebels, and the broken-hearted. Sitting in prison on a raft of charges including kidnapping, guns, drugs and counterfeiting was very different to the scenario Janet had imagined. Her life had become a psychotic hybrid of Breaking Bad and Paranormal Activity. There had to be a divine intervention or things were just not going to end well. How did a country girl from a decent family become a hardcore Meth-addict? What would you do if you were visited by a demon with a deadly agenda? Janet's quest to find her true identity and the meaning of life took her to the very brink of death and hell. It nearly killed her but Janet got her answers... insight into true spiritual power, treasures found in the darkness, and real answers about life"-Back cover.

"Imagine if, as a doctor, you could eradicate a disease that is maiming, even killing, people through making some changes to the way you live your life. Would you do it? Stress and burnout in doctors is causing us to make mistakes. The way we are ‘being’ as doctors in work and life is causing us to betray the very foundation of our profession; first, do no harm. When Dr Roger Bannister became the first person to run a mile in under four minutes, he challenged a paradigm of what was possible, he went first. Once he’d taken that step and shown that a new possibility existed, others were able to do it too. Driven by his mission to help doctors live exceptional lives, Dr Sam Hazledine has successfully lobbied the World Medical Association to amend the Declaration of Geneva, the Physician’s Oath, to include the need for doctors to foster their own health and wellbeing. Four years of research have resulted in the evidence-based wellbeing for doctors in Medicine’s Four Minute Mile: - Sam will challenge your paradigm about what it means to put your patient first - You will learn evidence-based behaviours to improve your own wellbeing today - You will reconnect with that inner drive that compelled you to become a doctor in the first place - And much more to reclaim your energy and live an exceptional life. You have invested many years and countless hours to master your medical skills, isn’t it worth investing just a bit more time to master the behaviours that will cause you to live an exceptional life and provide care of the highest standard?"—Back cover.

Summary  "In Mind That Child, Rowley provides a rare glimpse into what it means to be entrusted with the most precious of responsibilities – a young human life. Charting his decades of medical experience, Rowley touches on an array of issues, from the high-stakes management of tiny pre-term babies to the serious impacts of drugs, alcohol and technology on developing minds. Real-life cases and practical advice are interwoven throughout a candid, compassionate narrative. What's revealed is a tender and profound portrait of a medical professional at the very centre of what matters – a doctor who always adopts a humane, holistic view and who writes openly about the personal impact of a career in medicine"--Publisher information.

<td>&quot;It's often said that life is a journey, and Rotorua resident Lindsay Prince's 'My Journey Through Life' takes readers not only on a journey through his life but also his life's journeys. Born in Wellington, where his family arrived in 1841, Lindsay grew up at a time when fun meant making a trolley out of spare parts and pocket money could be raised as a &quot;bottle-o&quot;. Compulsory military training took him into the New Zealand Airforce, followed by working in the forests of the West Coast and Central North Island as a Forest Service trainee. Mixing with Canadians, led Lindsay to the vast prairie lands of British Columbia, where he worked for one of Canada's largest forestry companies. Back in New Zealand, Lindsay worked and raised a family but the travel bug spawned journeys that he would take through the remainder of his life. The end of his journey sees Lindsay at home in Rotorua, where he lived and loved.&quot;--Back cover.</td>

Summary "Rural revolt - in defence of Coromandel's wild kingdom is an environmental and social history in five parts. First they came for the goats tells of the government's "wall of death" pogrom against feral goats. Don't fence us in tells of an attempt to enclose farming families and others behind a divisive predator-proof steel barrier. Save our wild pigs exposes the stealth attack by local government to take wild pigs off the rural New Zealand menu. Coromandel voices: poison peninsula presents the struggle for humane conservation policies. This volume, The killing nation: New Zealand's state-sponsored addiction to poison 1080, documents how our wilderness continues to be poisoned despite decades of community opposition and mounting evidence of environmental harm"--Back cover.

Summary  "Wherever you are in the North Island you're sure to be within reach of a short walk with an excellent destination. Peter Janssen has hand-picked more than 250 short but memorable walks throughout the mainland and offshore islands. All walks will suit those who enjoy walking but do not want a long tramp with heavy boots and a pack, or travellers who are short on time and those with young families. Every walk includes a highlight, whether it's an historic landmark such as Kerikeri's Stone Store; a spectacular natural feature, such as the Craters of the Moon near Lake Taupo; or simply a great view, such as can be had from Makorori Point on East Cape or Wellington's Mt Victoria"--Back cover.

Wherever you are in the South Island you're sure to be within reach of a short walk with an excellent destination. Peter Janssen has picked more than 250 short but memorable walks throughout the mainland and Rakiura/Stewart Island. All walks will suit those who enjoy walking but do not want a long tramp with heavy boots and a pack, or travellers who are short on time and those with young families. Every walk includes a highlight, whether it's an historic landmark such as goldminers' cottages in Arrowtown; a spectacular feature of the landscape, such as the Fox Glacier; nature in the raw, such as penguin colonies on the Otago coast; or simply an unbeatable view. Each description includes: * highlight(s) * how to get there * grade and duration ... and track notes where they're needed. If you like stretching your legs without going too far, pack a copy of Excellent Short Walks. Travel writer Peter Janssen is the best-selling author of many travel guides, including Touring the Natural Wonders of New Zealand and the recent Best Short Nature Walks in New Zealand published by New Holland. Peter has travelled the country extensively over the years, both enjoying the popular spots and finding those hidden-away places.

Summary  "The detective hunt for some of this country’s most important and beautiful murals. Mervyn Taylor - wood engraver, painter, illustrator, sculptor and designer - was one of the most celebrated New Zealand artists of the 1930s to 1960s. He was highly connected to modernism and nationalism as it was expressed in the New Zealand art and literature of the period. Between 1956 and 1964 he created twelve murals for major new government and civic buildings erected in that era of great economic prosperity, during which New Zealand first began to loosen its apron-string ties to England. Tragically, some have been destroyed and others presumed lost - until now. This fascinating and beautiful book, bursting with archival material, details the detective hunt for the murals and tells the stories of their creation. They cement Taylor’s place as one of New Zealand’s most significant artists, and are a celebration of the art and culture of our modernist era”—Publishers website.

Summary: "In the Podkowa Lesna, Poland, Herbert Crow lives a peaceful life as a tailor, weaving the threads of magic into cloth with the careful precision of an artist. Nobody knows about the shadows of his past, not even his beloved girlfriend, Melania. Alas, the past is determined not to be forgotten. Melania vanishes, and a ransom demand appears on his doorstep in the hands of an old enemy. Herbert must deliver a package to a certain location in Warsaw before the full moon reaches its peak, or Melania's life will become forfeit. Warsaw. A city cursed by the deaths of thousands, where magic itself has died and become useless. In the place where his mystical arts cannot protect him, Herbert is forced to resort to ancient and terrible powers to survive. Time is running out for everyone. What choice do you make, when all of your options are terrible?"--Back cover.

Summary  "Life in the Special Forces can be too much for some people to bear. Yes, it is a life of action and adventure, but it's also a life of constant fear and secrecy, where the risk of death waits around every corner. For other people, that life is their calling, and the surge of adrenaline is as addictive as any drug. Vesper is one such addict, a young man ready to sacrifice everything to serve his country. He joins a secret unit of the International Security Agency, where he is given a new life, a new identity, and a new mission: control the renegade threat without letting the general public discover that it exists. The renegades are not merely men fighting for a cause, though. They are vampires, vicious blood-drinkers who choose to live by their own violent code rather than following the rules of their more civilized brethren, the Nighters. The renegades are growing at a dangerous rate, and developing ever more brutal methods to harvest the fresh human blood they crave. Vesper is faced with a difficult choice: as a human, he is not strong enough to stand against the renegades. Should he sacrifice everything and become a Nighter, in the name of the greater good?"--Back cover.

       mythic logic of art -- Part 4. From Mona Lisa to Duchamp and Shakespeare.
Summary  "Part 1 surrounds the seventy-eight facsimile pages of the 1609 edition with succinct speech-balloon commentaries on the individual sonnets and their groupings. Part 2 has fifty-three pages of charts and diagrams illustrating aspects of the 'Sonnet' philosophy and its relation to the world about. Then, Part 3 uses the 'Sonnet' philosophy to demonstrate the relationship between a number of historically enigmatic art works and Shakespeare's oeuvre.
       To explicate the relationships between the enigmatic images, Part 4 features an essay on the blood-thirsty strigas haunt the night... a young woman named Venda is the final line of defense for the people of Wolven Valley. As guardian, she will have to face not only the gods and demons themselves, but far more dangerous foes: loneliness, fear, and doubt.While she wrestles with learning what she needs to know to become the guardian, an ancient prophecy begins to unfold around her. The last wolfar has returned to the valley, seeking to resurrect the cruel race of predators who once ruled there. Generations earlier, the Gray Lord – god of wolves – had predicted that his children would return some day, to unleash terrible revenge on the people who drove them out. Will their forbidden love stand in the way of destiny, or will it just bring the terrifying prophecy closer to fruition?"--Back cover.

Summary "This is the life story of the late Jasmine Beveridge. Her parents -- teachers Keith and Sylvia Henderson (her mother later came to international prominence as writer Sylvia Ashton-Warner) -- taught for many years in remote Maori schools. Jasmine's early years were spent in Horoera, Pipiriki and Waiomatatini. For her secondary schooling, she was sent to boarding school in Gisborne, and had to learn how to wear shoes. She became a teacher, married young and still in her 30s became a widow with six children. They all moved into her mother's home, 'Whenua' in Tauranga. Later she married divorcee Bill Beveridge and raised their blended family of nine children.In her life story, Jasmine talks about her extended family, including her Methodist minister grandfather, and her many aunts and uncles, cousins and second-cousins. Weaving in poems and letters she wrote, she captures a lot of glimpses of life in postwar New Zealand and beyond"--Publisher information.

Title  Gallipoli to the Somme : recollections of a New Zealand infantryman / by Alexander Aitken, 8/2524 N.Z.E.F. ; edited and introduced by Alex Calder.

Author  Aitken, A. C. (Alexander Craig), 1895-1967. author

ISBN  9781869408817

Publishing Details  Auckland, New Zealand : Auckland University Press, [2018]

Physical Details  xxxiv, 213 pages : illustrations ; 23 cm

Summary  "Alexander Aitken was an ordinary soldier with an extraordinary mind. The student who enlisted in 1915 was a mathematical genius who could multiply nine-digit numbers in his head. He took a violin with him to Gallipoli (where field telephone wire substituted for an E-string) and practiced Bach on the Western Front. Aitken also loved poetry and knew the Aeneid and Paradise Lost by heart. His powers of memory were dazzling. When a vital roll-book was lost with the dead, he was able to dictate the full name, regimental number, next of kin and address of next of kin for every member of his former platoon—a total of fifty-six men. Everything he saw, he could remember. Aitken began to write about his experiences in 1917 as a wounded out-patient in Dunedin Hospital. Every few years, when the war trauma caught up with him, he revisited the manuscript, which was eventually published as Gallipoli to the Somme in 1963. Aitken writes with a unique combination of restraint, subtlety, and an almost photographic vividness. He was elected fellow of the Royal Society of Literature on the strength of this single work—a book recognised by its first reviewers as a literary memoir of the Great War to put alongside those by Graves, Blunden and Sassoon. Long out of print, this is by some distance the most perceptive memoir of the First World War by a New Zealand soldier. For this edition, Alex Calder has written a new introduction, annotated the text, compiled a selection of images, and added a commemorative index identifying the soldiers with whom Aitken served"--Publisher information.

Summary
"Nerissa Taylor's heart lies in the spectacularly beautiful Aqua Bay. As an eco-tour guide she proudly showcases the pristine bay and dolphins she loves to the many tourists who visit the area. All that is about to end as she prepares to move to the city and marry her fiancé, Scott. Geologist Jackson Darnell arrives in the area to investigate oil exploration possibilities hiding behind a cavalier attitude to avoid the pain of his past. When Nerissa and Jackson’s paths cross, sparks fly and loyalties are tested. As tensions rise, and she faces a frightening unresolved issue from her past, Nerissa is forced to question exactly what she wants in life. How far will Nerissa go to protect Aqua Bay and the precious dolphins she loves?"--Back cover.

Summary  "Sink your teeth into the hot new werewolf paranormal romance from USA Today bestselling author, Steffanie Holmes! Anna: It's been five months since my boyfriend was tragically killed in a climbing accident. I didn’t think I was over him … until Luke walked on to the archaeological site. Tall, dark, sexy, tattooed, funny, dangerous. Everything I want in a man. But he's hiding something. He acts strangely in the moonlight. He won't tell me anything about his life. And I caught him trying to destroy an important find. My body aches for him, but my heart tells me I'm not ready to make myself vulnerable again, especially not for a guy who isn’t being straight with me. If only … Luke: Anna Sinclair – archaeologist, geek girl, totally and utterly delectable. I knew from the moment her intoxicating scent wafted across my wolf senses, she’s meant to be mine. And that knowledge is terrifying. The last thing I expected was to find my fated mate on an archaeological site. Whenever I'm near her, all I want to do is claim her. But she's broken. The last thing she needs in her life is a werewolf out for revenge. I'm here to destroy the site, to keep my family's past buried forever. If Anna finds out the truth, she'd never speak to me again. But I can't deny the bond between us. I'll do anything to make her mine"--Back cover.

When a disturbing event occurs at school the impact propels him on an adventure to a strange land to uncover answers that will save his mother's life. Eddie was never just an ordinary boy. But until he is thrust into his mother's homeland of Andalustria, he has no idea just how magikal he is. Eddie and his best friend Melody dive into an enchanted world where nothing is as it seems. Faeries bite, trees talk, ogres block the path and squiggins surprise them as unexpected friends appear and everyone, even you, seems to have magikal powers! Suddenly, everything that made them different, even the bits they had thought weren't so cool, are celebrated. Unearthing the importance of accepting themselves in their truest form they discover how to create balance between their feelings and their thoughts. As they re-discover their own unique gifts they begin to learn how to travel through the turbulent world wearing a new 'seatbelt of awareness' to reclaim their true birth right and let their souls sing! Summary  "Lord Abersham and Lady Sarah are the best of friends and too young for affairs of the heart—but they are growing up fast. After nine months touring the Continent with his parents, Toad Abersham will soon be sent away to finish his education, and Sally Grenford has years to wait before she is old enough to be presented at Court and married to the man she’s loved since the cradle. Sally has only four weeks filled with mistletoe and holiday outings to convince Toad to see her as a woman, in her first long dress, impeded by the sudden distance he is placing between them. But she has never let Toad's reticence stop her from dragging him into mischief before. Toad battles rising lustful feelings for his best friend, an innocent whom he would not hurt for the world. However, still captivated by his newly acquired skills as a rake-about-town, he is not remotely prepared to be married. But since he has never been able to say no to Sally, Toad is led to indiscretions he would never commit with another young lady. Summary "The Hollow is no ordinary haunted house. The rooms change places, the walls are closing in, and every day the house gets closer to being crushed beneath the weight of the void between worlds. Aisling is the Hollow’s last protector, a young woman ready to sacrifice herself to protect her family’s magic from falling into the hands of the fae. She knew the Hollow would eventually take her life. But she never imagined it would bring her the boy of her dreams. Niall is a warrior, a fae born and bred for killing. But all his strength and guile can’t help him save his brother, who is being held prisoner by a rival fae. The only way Niall can free his brother is to gain enough magic to pay off his debt. And there’s only one ready source of residual magic in the city – the Hollow. Now, Aisling and Niall are trapped inside the Hollow. As their enemies batter at the doors, desperate for entry, and the void between worlds threatens to consume them in eternal night, Aisling and Niall must battle their own demons and join forces to save the magic of the Hollow from falling into the wrong hands. If the Hollow falls, both worlds fall with it. But if Aisling and Niall succeed, they will be forced apart for all of eternity"--Back cover.

Summary "Naya, Slink and Stumpy have all told their stories, and now it’s the turn of Hoo the owl, with her bird’s eye view of things, as the team leaves Naya’s old home town of Harat and heads toward the hills. Syana is excited about visiting the hills, but apart from that, it seems that life is settling down for the team. But then, the Urzites discover that they’re going to be passing close to the town of Mennon, where Hartan Igellson lives. He and his rat have been number one on their list of people they need to take care of ever since they learned how he destroyed Naya’s life. Princess Arka doesn’t intend to visit Mennon. It would be pointless because the regional Warden Centre is situated in the town, so she assumes that Urzites will already be known there. However, the Urzites know that they’ll never be able to hold their heads up again if they pass this close to Hartan Igellson and don’t do anything about him. After all, this might be the only chance they ever have to exact vengeance for Naya. So, they dispatch the two owls, Hoo and Hervin, to spy out the land and find out where Hartan Igellson lives, with the intention of paying him a visit one night before they leave the area. When the two owls visit the town in search of their quarry, however, they uncover an appalling situation at the Mennon Warden Centre. It’s going to be up to the team to not only get even with Hartan Igellson and his rat, but to rescue the Urzites of Mennon from virtual slavery. And Hoo will be right there in the thick of the action"--Back cover.

Summary: "After a messy divorce, Kit Allen returns to his first loves—horses and his old veterinary school alma mater. He excels at imparting his knowledge to students and is determined to earn a tenure track position. Becoming involved with anything but a pager —ever— isn't in the cards. Especially a talented and beautiful student in need of his assistance. When Lena Scott's horse lands on her, upside down, it has to be the dashing resident, Kit, who finds her. Luckily for her, she's sworn off relationships after her last romantic disaster. She has more important things to worry about than sea-green eyes and rugged good looks. Besides, if there's one thing a veterinary school faculty frowns upon, it's a relationship between a resident and a student... like oil and water, they just don't mix" -- Back Cover.

Summary  "Maddison is a survivor. An unstable childhood has taught her to depend on no one but herself, which is exactly how she’s gotten to where she is today. With a scholarship to one of the most prestigious schools in the country, she’s finally able to settle into one location until she graduates. But with foster parents hooked on drugs, Maddison is forced to steal to make ends meet, not only for herself but her foster siblings. Kingsley is filthy rich. An only child, he lives with a mother who is dependent on alcohol, a father who doesn’t talk to him, and his chef, the only real family he has. His life changes when he overhears Maddison playing the cello. She’s snappy, hot and wants nothing to do with him, and he’s obsessed. As they spend time together, she begins to lower her guard. She’s everything he needs, everything he wants, and for the first time, he’s able to tell someone about his past. Everything is perfect. Until he ruins it. Stolen Songs is a heartfelt and heartbreaking story of letting go of your past when it means taking hold of your future, finding strength in your mistakes, and giving everything you’ve got to heal the ones you’ve broken"--Provided by publisher.

Summary "Our empire is built on lies. The Senate is in chaos. The Republic is falling from within, a corrupted shell around a rotted core. Abhorrent espers control humans like pawns. The Republic Navy is in open rebellion. The Tyche rides solar wind, seeking allies. If they don't find them, humanity will fall. An ancient transmission is discovered from beyond the charted edge of the hard black. It is not Ezeroc, who need no technology to communicate. Grace Gushiken and Nathan Chevell take the free trader Tyche on a desperate mission. Find the source of the signal, and with it, hope. The war against the Ezeroc is not one humans can win alone. Flying on borrowed time, Grace and Nate discover an ancient space station. It holds horrors from the Old Empire. These secrets are better left hidden, for they lead the Tyche to the heart of Ezeroc space. They find an alien homeworld hungry for war. "The enemy is already here. After the encounter with the merciless Ezeroc on Absalom Delta, Grace Gushiken and Nathan Chevell make a run for home. They have a new mission: to warn humanity. Aliens are real. And they are already among us. The crew of the free trader Tyche are hunted by men in black, fearsome fighters who share the Ezeroc's powers. When the Tyche lands on Earth the ship’s placed on lockdown. Her crew are scattered and on the run. Without their ship or friends, Grace and Nate have no escape. The Republic and its military have been corrupted to the core by the Ezeroc. Humanity’s homeworld is at risk. As hope dwindles, Grace and Nate receive an offer they can’t refuse from an unlikely source. The abhorrent espers of the Old Empire might be their only chance to save humanity. Their devil’s bargain: join us, or die. Out of time and running low on luck, Grace and Nate must gather their scattered crew. Five souls and an old heavy lifter against the might of the Republic and its alien overlords. Will the crew of the Tyche find allies in humanity’s struggle for survival? Or are we doomed to be food for the insects?"–Back cover.

"A colony world goes dark. Grace Gushiken is a grifter and a liar. Worse, she’s an esper, an abhorrent creation of the Old Empire. Grace keeps her blade sharp and her wits sharper. She’s on the run from the Republic’s justice. Nathan Chevell captains the free trader Tyche, an ex-war heavy lifter. He’s no pirate, but he’s no white knight either. An encounter with espers saw him discharged from the Emperor’s Black before the real fighting even started. When the crew of the Tyche are hired to deliver a new transmitter for a downed Guild Bridge, Grace hitches a ride. They find the Absalom Delta colony deserted, its people turned into slaves by the insect-like Ezeroc. The aliens have descended like locusts on humanity, consuming all in their path. No one is safe. Even the Republic Navy is powerless against them. Facing an impossible foe, odds are stacked against the Tyche. The ship and her crew need to test their skill and their luck to survive. Will Grace and Nate be able to work together to get away? Or will fears and rivalries from the past destroy humanity’s hopes, ceding victory to the Ezeroc?"–Back cover.

Summary "Alexandra Kline has landed her dream job – curating her first art exhibition at the prestigious Halt Institute in the small English village of Crookshollow. But her dream job quickly turns into a nightmare when she’s forced to work with Ryan Raynard – the arrogant, reclusive artist who refuses to co-operate with her. When Ryan’s paintings don’t show up at the gallery on time, Alex heads out to his crumbling mansion to give him a piece of her mind. Billionaire artist Ryan Raynard hides a dark secret. He is a fox shifter, who shuns the company of humans and hunts alone at night in the forest surrounding his crumbling, Gothic mansion. But the moment he laid eyes on Alex, he can’t help but be drawn to her. He can sense that she’s the descendant of a powerful shifter clan, and she is destined to become his mate. If only he was ready to fall in love again … As Ryan and Alex are drawn together, they realise they are facing bigger problems than Ryan’s stone-cold heart. Crookshollow forest is being overrun with a different kind of shifter – ruthless and deadly, these shifters are killing humans indiscriminately for no apparent reason. And they are hot on Alex’s scent. Can Ryan keep Alex safe from harm, or will his need for her endanger them both?"--Back cover.

Summary  "In 1980, Polish film director, Krzysztof Kieslowski created a drama series for television called Dekalog. These were ten one-hour films which took their inspiration from one each of the Ten Commandments, exploring, in turn, some moral issue in a modern setting. The locale in this particular case was an apartment block in Poland. The Decalogue, by Dornauf, is a series of short stories which does something similar, but each commandment and its ethical imperatives are set in one or other of the decades of the twentieth century"--Back cover, Summary "Humanity lives within the vast landscapes of ancient gods. The Polis. Four young men, the sole survivors of an inexplicable massacre, awaken in an impossible laboratory with powers they cannot understand. Desperate to interpret an ancient text scrawled on the laboratory's wall, they flee to another Polis. Something follows them. If they are to survive, they must destroy the beast before it can complete the massacre it left unfinished. Sarra remembers nothing of her childhood, her memories beginning only after her arrival at HopeWall, the energy-weaving academy. She hides a secret power, its origins a mystery even to her. All HopeWall is put at risk when a hidden killer learns her secret, and she must ally herself with four strangers she barely trusts. If she can't find the killer, Sarra herself will likely die next. Series  BWB texts.

Summary  "Migration is at historically high levels and more than a quarter of the New Zealand population was born overseas. Yet immigration remains a deeply contentious issue, with the debate more often shaped by emotion than evidence. Julie Fry and Peter Wilson have developed a new framework that broadens the scope of how we consider migration policy. Rather than just considering the effect of migration on GDP, they look at factors such as the Treaty of Waitangi. Their goal? Migration policy that acknowledges the complexity of the world we all inhabit."--Publisher information.

Summary: "Sink your teeth into the hot new werewolf paranormal romance from USA Today bestselling author, Steffanie Holmes! Anna: It's been five months since my boyfriend was tragically killed in a climbing accident. I didn't think I was over him … until Luke walked on to the archaeological site. Tall, dark, sexy, tattooed, funny, dangerous. Everything I want in a man. But he's hiding something. He acts strangely in the moonlight. He won't tell me anything about his life. And I caught him trying to destroy an important find. My body aches for him, but my heart tells me I'm not ready to make myself vulnerable again, especially not for a guy who isn't being straight with me. If only … Luke: Anna Sinclair – archaeologist, geek girl, totally and utterly delectable. I knew from the moment her intoxicating scent wafted across my wolf senses, she's meant to be mine. And that knowledge is terrifying. The last thing I expected was to find my fated mate on an archaeological site. Whenever I'm near her, all I want to do is claim her. But she's broken. The last thing she needs in her life is a werewolf out for revenge. I'm here to destroy the site, to keep my family's past buried forever. If Anna finds out the truth, she'd never speak to me again. But I can't deny the bond between us. I'll do anything to make her mine"--Back of print book cover.

Summary  "This book is about how to live with freedom and ease by feeling more and doing less. It's about learning to align our actions with our real intentions and developing that as an art form. It's about letting go of what doesn't matter. Drawing on various time-honored spiritual traditions - primarily Buddhism and Taoism, but several others are drawn in their wake - this book explores the effortless engagement with life that lies deep in the heart of these traditions" ; "As one example I describe my own training within the traditional Chinese martial art of Wing Chun, which I have found to be Divine Laziness in action. This book also explores the training in moral uprightness and stillness of mind and heart that must form the bedrock of a life of freedom and ease"—Author's website.

Summary  "When carers and the people they care for engage in good communication, frustrations and stress are minimised. Good communication enables carers to manage most challenges in a positive and respectful way. The book provides practical strategies that are easy to implement when dealing with some commonly encountered problems drawn from real-life experience. It explains what works, what doesn’t, and why. It also shows how to use language effectively, how to implement critical listening skills, and how to interpret body language"--Publisher information.

Summary  "She’s one of London’s beauties. Lady Isabella Knox enjoys her independence. She collects strays - dogs, kittens, runaway brides - but she has no intention of collecting a husband. He’s London's ogre. Major Nicholas Reynolds returns from the Battle of Waterloo a hero. He’s had enough of soldiering; all he wants now is a bride ... but his scarred face sends young ladies fleeing - literally. When a slip of her tongue brands the major an ogre - and his chances of marriage disintegrate - Isabella sets out to undo the harm she inadvertently caused. How better to revive the major’s marriage prospects than for the two of them to indulge in a make-believe flirtation? They both know it’s not real, so where’s the danger? But Isabella is soon in over her head - and so is Major Reynolds"— Publishers website.

Summary  “After a messy divorce, Kit Allen returns to his first loves—horses and his old veterinary school alma mater. He excels at imparting his knowledge to students and is determined to earn a tenure track position. Becoming involved with anything but a pager —ever— isn’t in the cards. Especially a talented and beautiful student in need of his assistance. When Lena Scott’s horse lands on her, upside down, it has to be the dashing resident, Kit, who finds her. Luckily for her, she’s sworn off relationships after her last romantic disaster. She has more important things to worry about than sea-green eyes and rugged good looks. Besides, if there’s one thing a veterinary school faculty frowns upon, it’s a relationship between a resident and a student... like oil and water, they just don’t mix” -- Amazon website.

Summary  "In Mind That Child, Rowley provides a rare glimpse into what it means to be entrusted with the most precious of responsibilities – a young human life. Charting his decades of medical experience, Rowley touches on an array of issues, from the high-stakes management of tiny pre-term babies to the serious impacts of drugs, alcohol and technology on developing minds. Real-life cases and practical advice are interwoven throughout a candid, compassionate narrative. What's revealed is a tender and profound portrait of a medical professional at the very centre of what matters – a doctor who always adopts a humane, holistic view and who writes openly about the personal impact of a career in medicine"--Publisher information.

Physical Details 1 online resource : colour illustration
Summary "Logan Perry spent part of an inheritance traveling to various states, unconsciously looking for something to focus her life on. Near the end of her journey, her beloved truck, Shelia, breaks down outside the dismal town of Bourne Falls. Taryn Donovan has no self-esteem and hates the waitressing job that barely keeps her in food. When a stranger enters the tavern where she works, her world spins out of control. Can an unexpected weekend encounter turn out to be something more fulfilling? Find out in this sexually charged romance"--Back cover.

Dani is on a school trip to the zoo. The teacher tells the children how to stay safe and not get lost. But Dani gets separated from the others. Suddenly another class is rushing up the path, and at the back of the noisy crowd is someone Dani recognizes: Ella! The good friends are so happy to be together again and Ella wants to play. What should Dani do? Follow her best friends in the whole world or do as the teach said? The first, of course!"--Back cover.

Title  Stunning revelations about Lao Zi's Dao de jing : the physics of psychology / Dr. Auke Schade.
Author  Schade, Auke, Dr., 1941- author, translator.
ISBN  9780473428143 PDF
Physical Details  1 online resource
Summary  "The world's things originate from Existence. Existence originates from Non-existence. The title of Lao Zi's book Dao De Jing means - A classic about the Physics of Psychology. After two-and-half thousand years, his sophisticated theories are still ahead of our time. Lao Zi's principle of physics entails that Dao in its manifestation of Qi will inevitably maintain the multitude of Yin-Yang balances comprising our universe. Therefore, his principle of psychology holds that people can only maximize their success by aligning with Dao. His dynamic way of thinking fosters much needed solutions that reach peacefully across the fault-lines created by race, religion and ideology"--Back cover.

Series: BWB Texts.
Summary: "We are no longer like our ancestors. We no longer depend on our skills as foragers, gatherers, scavengers, hunters and fishers for food. We are only part-time food raisers at best. Our biology, on the other hand, has changed far less. Now there is a mis-match between who we are and what we eat. And it is in the gap created by this mis-match that chronic diseases can take root"--Publisher information.

"Simon is gorgeous and divorced. Francesca isn't looking. A chance meeting with the presenter of his favorite podcast leads to a 'non date' together and their blossoming relationship is thrust into overdrive – virtually overnight. But Simon's ex-wife tilts him off balance and he lets Francesca down - badly. Seeming like it's over before it's really begun, will Simon realize what he's done and repair the damage he's caused before it's too late? And will Francesca forgive and forget? True love has many obstacles to climb over and Simon and Francesca's story is no different" -- Amazon website.

Physical Details: 1 CD : digital ; 12 cm

Summary: The Best of Raggamuffin celebrates the tenth anniversary of the much-loved people's festival and sadly also the final Raggamuffin. Having commenced in Rotorua in 2008, Raggamuffin captured the imagination of not just New Zealanders but international visitors who have travelled year in year out to enjoy some of the world's biggest reggae stars including the inaugural line-up of UB40 (full band) Maxi Priest, The Wailers and Arrested Development. This album celebrates the ten year history of the festival and also the Raggamuffin albums that have been released over the years. This album features many artists who have appeared in the festivals over the years -- Maxi Priest, The Black Seeds, Shaggy, Jimmy Cliff, Inner Circle and it seemed fitting that UB40 start and finish this album as they were integral in the creation of New Zealand's favourite reggae festival, Raggamuffin.

Summary: "As the Civil War rages, secessionists menace California. Aleksandra and Xavier are trying to get back home—through the oncoming Civil War, the mining camps of 1860's Nevada and California, the Great Flood of Sacramento—to Xavier's Californio Rancho de las Pulgas. Embroiled in the Confederates' fight to drag the new state from the Union and make it their own, can Aleks and Xavier survive? The secessionists mean business" -- Authors website.

The hunters: the precarious lives of New Zealand's birds of prey / Debbie Stewart.

Author: Stewart, D. S. (Deborah S.) author.
ISBN 9780143772743 online
Projected Publication Date 1805
Physical Details: 1 online resource
Summary: "From an extinct giant eagle and an owl that sounded like the devil, to the morepork we hear calling at night, the falcon that appears on our $20 note and the hawks we see swooping on the grisly remains of dead critters on the road, this book takes a close look at these fascinating birds and the people who are working to keep the species that are still with us safe. Filled with facts and great stories of rescued birds being nursed back to health, this book also has many amazing close-up photographs. Find out about the ancient art of falconry, how damaged feathers critical for flying can be replaced with temporary ones, how you can help an injured bird, and how birds can be released back into the wild"--Publisher information.

Summary: "The Project Kids really have their work cut out for themselves this time. After Peter Johansen nearly destroyed the Valentine's Dance, you might expect the Project Kids to be glad to see the last of 'Pimple Pete'. So why are they reaching out to him - and what do they hope to achieve? As one small idea takes on a life of its own and one of their own is struck down in their prime, they find themselves struggling to answer one simple question: Can they actually un-bully a bully? ...And should they even try? The answer lies in an unexpected place...and not even the Easter Bunny can help them.... Parent/Teacher Note: This next book in the Project Kids Adventures series sees the kids tackling several interrelated projects at once. While carefully investigating the reasons behind Pimple Pete's bullying behavior, they find themselves engaged in a cause that extends well beyond the school and their community"--Publisher's information.
