The New Zealand National Bibliography (NZNB) contains catalogue records for the New Zealand imprint. It is produced monthly (12 issues per year). The National Library of New Zealand has responsibility for producing the Bibliography. Most of the material listed is received by the National Library of New Zealand under the Legal Deposit provisions of the National Library (Te Puna Mātauranga o Aotearoa) Act 2003. It contains New Zealand and Tokelau resources, both physical and digital, including books, serials, newspapers, maps, music, websites and podcasts. Items are included after they have been received at the National Library. The records are created in accordance with international cataloguing standards.

This document contains all the items that have been catalogued during the month of March 2020. The items are grouped by format and then separated into digital and physical. Within each format grouping the items are arranged alphabetically by title.

Publishing Details  New Zealand : Audiobooks NZ
Format  1 online resource (14 files)
Summary  Be inspired by the courage of this hard-working Southland farmer who led the First Commando Fiji Guerrillas in World War II. My parents were an exceptional couple. Their characters and influence in the local community, the farming world and in a much wider sphere were significant. My father's contribution to the war effort in the Solomon Islands, and the well-deserved Silver Star awarded to him by the Americans, is a unique story that you will not find in many of the war histories. My mother also made a huge impact in her community and was awarded a QSM for her work

Creator  MacDibble, Bren
ISBN  9780473494018 digital audiobook
Format  1 online resource (53 files)
Summary  Sometimes bees get too big to be up in the branches, sometimes they fall and break their bones. This week both happened and Foreman said, 'Tomorrow we'll find two new bees.' Peony lives with her sister and grandfather on a fruit farm outside the city. In a world where real bees are extinct, the quickest, bravest kids climb the fruit trees and pollinate the flowers by hand. All Peony really wants is to be a bee. Life on the farm is a scrabble, but there is enough to eat and a place to sleep, and there is love. Then Peony's mother arrives to take her away from everything she has ever known, and all Peony's grit and quick thinking might not be enough to keep her safe.

Huia e huia, tangata kotahi! Huia, your destiny is to bring everyone together! Once the sacred guardian of New Zealand’s native forests, the huia was a symbol of the land’s unique beauty and spirituality. The rare bird’s tragic extinction in the early 1900s represents a shot to the heart of Aotearoa and is a potent metaphor for a country’s conflicted history. Using the story of the untimely extinction of the huia, Jay Ruka offers a fresh perspective on the narrative of Aotearoa; a tale of two cultures, warring worldviews, and the things we lost in translation. Revisiting the early missionaries, the transformative message of the gospel and the cultural missteps of the Treaty of Waitangi, Huia Come Home invites us to reconnect with the unique story offered by the indigenous Māori lens. In relearning the history that lies in the soil of Aotearoa, we might just find a shared hope for the future and a recovery of national treasures once thought to be extinct.

Title  Kiwi Jacks: truths, myths, legends and philosophies / written by Hairy Jack.
Creator  Hairy Jack.
ISBN  9780995116764 digital audiobook
Publishing Details  [Auckland, New Zealand] : [David Callender?], [2019]
Format  1 online resource
Summary  "Kiwi Jacks tells fact based stories of the essence of the Kiwi Bloke, and life and death in New Zealand from cities to the mountains, the rivers to the seas. Some are narrative in style of Historical NZ events, some are Educational in nature, some are very controversial, while others are tongue in cheek and designed to give the reader a good Laugh, yet others will leave you sitting shocked. Some will leave you not believing what you have just read, while others delve into the Spiritual Essence of New Zealand, the Land of the Mist, Taniwhas, Ruapehu and ghosts. If you are easily offended, do not read this book as there is more interest in true facts on which the stories are based, than the Political Correctness to not speak out, and the book is also written to entertain. The characters appearing in it are everyday Kiwi Jacks and Jackies, and it is up to the reader to sort the Fact from the Fiction, the Truth from the Myths, the Philosophies from the Legends of GODZONE. And there will be further stories to join these in the future"--Publisher's website.

<tr>
<td>Summary</td>
<td>In mid 2007, three Dunedin school girls won a nationwide contest (Freemasons Big Science Adventures DVD Competition) and found themselves journeying first to London then to Greenland to encounter a 1.8 million square kilometre icecap. Told through the travel log of the naive yet enthusiastic girls and using an adept mix of graphics and actual footage, Lessons takes the huge, often intangible issues of climate change, sustainability and our reliance on oil, and gives them a human face-a young, hopeful, very Kiwi one.</td>

Summary  "Introducing the crew of the Harpy: a ragtag group of spacers hauling cargo in the outer rim. Until someone tries to blow them out of the Black. Alcohol, women, and space, that's what keeps Captain Kael Jameson going. Plus the crew he's managed to gather in place of a family. But when he's forced to destroy something precious in order to save the ones he loves most, his world is turned upside down in a heartbeat. Things get bad after that, and he already had a hangover. Alien hitmen, political intrigue leading to civil war, and a cunning pirate overlord; you'd think it couldn't get any worse. But it does. When an unidentified enemy enters the known systems and starts picking New Earth's allies off, one by one, life as we know it falls apart. Either Kael and his crew beat them. Or get beaten. It's going to be a close call."--Publisher description.

Summary "To survive, she must become one of them. To thrive, she must become the best. The walls of Dökkálfa have ears. They have ears and they whisper. And what they have to say can be chilling. But not all fairies hear them. Only those blessed by the Old Gods. And the one they call Skilja. Separate. Kara Middleton wasn't always a fairy. Heck, even now, she couldn't be called completely Fey. Because the Queen of Ljósálfar made her what she is and what she is...is frightening. A monster. But there is one fairy who is not afraid of Kara and the devastating power she wields as if her very own. For he, too, hears the whispers of the castle walls. And what they tell him is intriguing. But everyone knows, you should never catch the eye of a fairy. Especially if the fairy is the Dökkálfa King"--Back of print version.

Summary "Talented vocalist Ally Dobson thought she had the perfect life - until she found out her sports star boyfriend played away games on and off the field. New to London and working as a temp, Ally's determined to leave her past behind her. CEO Ryan Farrell looks just as good in a well-cut suit as he does in a hardhat and leather tool belt. He leads a demanding life, and after an ex-girlfriend deceived him, he's sworn off relationships. Even so, when a beautiful temp enters his construction site one wet Thursday afternoon, the stir of interest is immediate. She's off-limits, but when they meet again by chance in a noisy London bar, he acts on the attraction and extends her an invitation. No strings. No commitment. How about Thursday? But Thursday has never been Ally's lucky day"--Back of print version.

Summary "It's common today to hear people talk about how they feel overwhelmed. There are also plenty who put on a brave face, when behind closed doors it's a different story. Where is this stress coming from? Is it really our tasks, duties and responsibilities or is it something deeper? And why are stress levels continuing to rise? The answer: our invisible loads. Our invisible load is the stress we carry, that no one sees, that drives how we think and feel. From the physical load on our body, to the emotional load in our mind, this invisible load is what really sits at the heart of our stress. And until we learn to unpack this, reducing our experience of stress will be almost impossible. In this carefully considered book, Dr Libby Weaver helps you to illuminate your invisible load to provide insight into what's driving the sense of overwhelm you feel for everyday tasks"--Back cover of print version.

Summary  "There are three golden rules for new recruits at Fairyland Theme Park: 1. No breaking character, even if you’re dying of heat exhaustion; 2. Always give guests the most magical time; 3. No falling in love. Nate’s only been at work one day, and he’s already broken all three. Fast-tracked into a Prince role, Nate’s at odds with Dash, the handsome not-so-charming prince who is supposed to be training him. Nate doesn’t know how he ended up on Dash’s bad side, but the broody prince sure is hot when he gets mad. Dash has worked long and hard to play Prince Justice at Fairyland. Now, instead of focusing on his own performance, he is forced to train newbie Nate to be the perfect prince. Nate’s annoying ease with the guests, coupled with his charm and good looks, could dethrone Dash from his number one spot … so why does he secretly want to kiss him? Fairyland heats up as sparks fly between the two rival princes. Will they get their fairytale romance before they’re kicked out of Fairyland for good? Find out in this standalone MM contemporary romance by Jaxon Knight, set in an amusement park where fairytales can come true.--- Rival Princes is a sweet Rivals to Lovers romance with queer characters, set in a fairy tale themed amusement park. Publishing Details  [Taupo] : [STR Limited], [2019]
Format  249 pages ; 23 cm
Summary  "Introducing the crew of the Harpy: a ragtag group of spacers hauling cargo in the outer rim. Until someone tries to blow them out of the Black. Alcohol, women, and space, that's what keeps Captain Kael Jameson going. Plus the crew he's managed to gather in place of a family. But when he's forced to destroy something precious in order to save the ones he loves most, his world is turned upside down in a heartbeat. Things get bad after that, and he already had a hangover. Alien hitmen, political intrigue leading to civil war, and a cunning pirate overlord; you'd think it couldn't get any worse. But it does. When an unidentified enemy enters the known systems and starts picking New Earth's allies off, one by one, life as we know it falls apart. Either Kael and his crew beat them. Or get beaten. It's going to be a close call."--Publisher description.

Summary  "To survive, she must become one of them. To thrive, she must become the best. The walls of Dökkálfa have ears. They have ears and they whisper. And what they have to say can be chilling. But not all fairies hear them. Only those blessed by the Old Gods. And the one they call Skilja. Separate. Kara Middleton wasn't always a fairy. Heck, even now, she couldn't be called completely Fey. Because the Queen of Ljósálfar made her what she is and what she is...is frightening. A monster. But there is one fairy who is not afraid of Kara and the devastating power she wields as if her very own. For he, too, hears the whispers of the castle walls. And what they tell him is intriguing. But everyone knows, you should never catch the eye of a fairy. Especially if the fairy is the Dökkálfa King"--Back cover.

Katherine Mansfield's many forms / Derek Ryan.

Series Katherine Mansfield studies; v. 11.

Summary "Elizabeth von Arnim is best remembered as the author of Elizabeth and Her German Garden (1898) and The Enchanted April (1922), as well as being the elder cousin of Katherine Mansfield. Recently, new research into the complex relationship between these writers has extended our understanding of the familial, personal and literary connections between these unlikely friends. We know that they were an influential presence on one another and reviewed each other's work. By bringing the work of Mansfield and von Arnim together – including on matters of artistry, on mourning, on gardens, on female resistance – this book establishes shared preoccupations in ways that refine and extend our knowledge of writing in the period. It also deepens our understanding of the historical and literary contexts within which both of these extraordinary authors worked."

Summary “Mad love - London girls, book 1. Madeline Lewis wants to be the next big thing in something - anything. She is tired of failure, although to be fair she does cause most of it. When she decides to start a butler service for busy London executives, she needs a guinea pig and a recommendation. There’s only one place Maddie can turn for help - her big brother’s best friend, Dean. Laura’s big break - London girls, book 2. Laura needs to interview the hero of the moment to keep her new job with one of London’s top women's magazine. She’d rather stick a fork in here eye. Twelve years have passed since her disastrous one night stand with Charlie and they’ve barely exchanged two civil words in all that time. If it wasn’t for the fact his sister was Laura’s best friend, she wouldn’t go anywhere near the Neanderthal”--Back cover.

Title: Pins / Natalie Morrison.

Creator: Morrison, Natalie.

ISBN: 1776563034
9781776563036 paperback

Format: 70 pages : 21 cm

Summary: At the centre of this book-length poem is a sister’s disappearance, and a peculiar inheritance: an obsession with pins. Pins held between the teeth to tell a fortune, a downpour of a thousand pins, precious pins borrowed for an art installation. In this intelligent, intimate and often comic depiction of two sisters and their family, Natalie Morrison gathers together many tiny pinpricks of loss. Part poem, part letter, part inventory - but not limited to any one of these categories - this is a mesmerizing debut.

“Callum McKay was an SAS officer when a car bomb took his legs. After his recovery, he became partner in the international security firm that dealt with the things governments weren’t able to deal with. As far as Callum was concerned, he was still the same able, competent and commanding guy he was before his accident. And then, he was proven wrong. After a screwed up mission in South America, Callum realized he wasn’t an asset to his team. He was a liability. With his purpose and faith in his abilities shattered, Callum turned his back on his security company and returned to the house his grandfather left him in Arness, Scotland. He was no longer fit for action. He was no longer fit for life. He was no use to anyone at all…Single mother Isobel Sinclair has made a lot of stupid decisions in her life. But the dumbest one had to be removing a dead body from the beach outside of her house in the tiny village of Arness. She panicked when she saw the dead man and was too scared to call the police, in case they found out her secrets and threw her in jail. Who would look after her kids if she was gone? No, there was no calling the police. That’s why the body ended up in her freezer and she ended up knocking on the door of the most terrifying man in Arness, to ask for his help. A man who was obviously hiding from the world. A man who didn’t want to get involved. But a man who wasn’t going to get a choice in the matter - because only Callum McKay could help her now”--Back cover.

Summary  “She’s an Oscar-nominated actress from a British acting dynasty. He’s an Atlantic City MMA fighter who grew up on the streets. Together, they’re each other’s only hope of survival. When a new and power-hungry cartel nabs Belinda Collins from her sister’s wedding party at an exclusive jungle resort in Peru, John Garcia, aka Beast, tries to stop the kidnapping - only to be taken himself. The couple are transported deep into the Amazon rainforest and a ransom is demanded. The pair know that as soon as their kidnappers realise Beast isn’t famous, they’ll consider him surplus to requirements and kill him. Their only hope is escape. But with no jungle experience between them, running into the rainforest could be just as deadly as taking their chances with their kidnappers. With their friends at Benson Security searching for the pair, and the jungle-savvy cartel hunting them down, Beast and Belinda have to work together to get out of the rainforest alive - before someone, or something, ensures they never leave at all”--Back cover.

Creator Henderson, Janet Elizabeth, 1970-
ISBN 9780473461362 paperback
Format 322 pages ; 21 cm.
Summary “The new London office of Benson Security hasn't even opened its doors yet and already it's neck deep in its first case...If the mission doesn't kill him, his sexy partner just might. Dimitri Raast and Megan Donaldson have a common enemy-the head of an organisation that specialises in human trafficking and sexual slavery. They have similar motivation-Dimitri's sister was taken by the organisation, and Megan’s sister is threatened by it. They have the same goal-eliminate their enemy and save their sisters. Given they have so much in common, you would think working together would be a piece of cake. You would be wrong. While Dimitri brings skills and experience from years as a US Army Ranger to their partnership, Megan brings a background in failed carer choices and an ability to cause trouble wherever she goes. Yet, even with so much at stake, Dimitri can’t resist Megan’s particular brand of crazy. She’s wild, she’s sexy and she’s fearless. An irresistible combination for a man who lives his life completely in control. Now, after almost a year with one all-consuming focus, Dimitri finds himself torn between rescuing his sister and protecting the woman he wants - from herself. Before she gets them both killed”--Back cover.

Summary  “There’s no hiding the fact that Julia Collins has issues. She’s shy to the point of trying to become invisible. She has OCD tendencies, breaking out in hives if she loses control of her environment. She finds it hard to talk to intimidating men, or more accurately, to any men. A fact that makes working as the office manager for Benson Security particularly difficult - the company is made up almost entirely of huge, intimidating, ex-military men. But none of the men affect her the way Joe Barone does. The ex-marine is charming, confident, heroic and so sexy it hurts to look at him. Everything about Joe intimidates Julia. And that’s why, when he declares his interest in her, she does the only sensible thing, she hides. There’s a limit to how long Joe Barone is going to tolerate Julia hiding. So what if she has a few issues? They don’t detract from her many attributes. She’s gorgeous, smart, generous and kind. Which guy wouldn’t want a woman like that by his side? So when her grandmother gets arrested in South America, Joe sees a perfect opportunity to show Julia how good they could be together. Julia needs someone to accompany her to Peru, someone who speaks Spanish and who doesn’t crumble in the face of authority. Julia needs Joe. But when they get to Lima, they discover things are much worse than they were led to believe. With danger at every turn and lives on the line, Julia is forced to get past her issues and trust in Joe, her life depends on it”--Back cover.

Summary  "Between first chapter and last, important events and influences in my life are examined in roughly chronological order. However, a variety of approaches has been taken to create a collage, rather than a straight chronology: for example, a graphic comic sequence, poems, anecdotes, photographs, a fairy tale, a questionnaire, and excerpts from an interview of me by someone else. The accompanying exegesis, The Past is a Foreign Country, details the process I went through to deal with things such as facing difficult issues, ethics and truth, genre, archiving of material and the shape and structure of the memoir as a work of creative non-fiction."

I started this website to document the activities I did with my children (my boy is currently 2.5, and my girl is 4.5). That was in 2014 – now it has turned into this wee community for parents to come and feel less alone in this parenting journey. In my blog, I talk openly about my postnatal depression, and about the experiences I have with day-to-day parenting. The rest of my website is dedicated to helping parents: activities for kids, recipes, tips and tricks, and so much more."--about page.

Te Hau Kainga = The Māori homefront.

Publishing Details  [Dunedin] : Māori Home Front

Format  Web site.

Frequency  Irregular

Publication Numbering  Began in 2020?

Summary  "Māori participation in World War II was significant: nearly 16,000 Māori enlisted for overseas service and around 3,600 served. By March 1943, 29,000 Māori, or one-third of the population, were contributing to the war effort, many of them civilians. Te Hau Kāinga, supported by the Marsden Fund, investigates the impact of war at home on ordinary families and communities and on Māori society more broadly. We are interested in a range of issues such as Māori engagement in patriotic efforts, Māori economic contribution to the war effort at home, and how the soldiers were treated on their return. Through this website we seek to engage with, and communicate our findings to the community. We also encourage you to share stories of how your family was impacted by World War II"--home page.

Summary "In April 2018 the New Zealand Government announced that an inquiry into Operation Burnham and related matters would be held.Operation Burnham was undertaken in Afghanistan by NZSAS troops and other nations’ forces operating as part of the International Security Assistance Force in 2010. In 2017 the book Hit & Run was published which contained a number of serious allegations against New Zealand Defence Force (NZDF) personnel. The Inquiry aims to establish the facts in connection with the allegations, examine the treatment by NZDF of reports of civilian casualties following the operation, and assess the conduct of NZDF forces. In common with all inquiries established under the Inquiries Act 2013, this Inquiry has no power to determine the civil, criminal, or disciplinary liability of any person, or award reparations. However it may, if justified, make findings of fault and recommend further steps be taken to determine liability. The Inquiry will report back to the Attorney-General by 31 March 2020"--home page.

<td>Summary</td>
<td>Website for Stephen Ralph Matthews, providing details about his career and biographical information. &quot;Born in Heretaunga, New Zealand, Stephen (Tipene) Ralph Matthews works in Auckland as a composer, songwriter, performer, multi-media artist and educator. A significant feature of his creative output has been the assimilation of cultural references in particular those drawn from te ao Māori. There is an undeniable relationship between his compositional interests and the physical and metaphysical spaces occupied in the distant and recent past. Many of his works reference image and sound drawn from the land, river and sea, and incorporate mōteatea (traditional Māori song) and taonga puoro (traditional Māori instruments). His creative work embraces instrumental and electroacoustic music, song, text and moving image as well as the intrinsic values and worldview of the people and communities he has collaborated with&quot;--bio page.</td>

Te Tira Whakaari.

Te Tira Whakaari is a charitable trust set up in 2012. It was established by Ngā Uri o Te Kooti Rikirangi, Rongowhakaata and Te Aitanga a Mahaki and Affiliates to tell the story of Te Kooti Rikirangi. Te Tira Whakaari acknowledges there is a lack of education available to the general public about the history of Te Kooti Rikirangi which has left a serious gap in public knowledge about the history of Māori and the interaction between Māori and the Crown in New Zealand. This has led to further stigmatisation of Ngā Uri o Te Kooti Rikirangi, and racial disharmony and social disintegration in the community.

Title: Whispers of Gallipoli : for baritone and piano / Anthony Ritchie.

Creator: Ritchie, Anthony.

Format: 1 online resource

Language: In English with some Māori. Staff notation.

Summary: "Commissioned by Robert Tucker for performances in 2015, commemorating 100 years since the ill-fated Gallipoli war campaign. These songs build a picture of events surrounding Gallipoli through extracts from poems, songs, diaries and interviews. We hear different perspectives: from eye-witness accounts, from anxious mothers, from officers in command, from poets looking back on the campaign, from death itself, personified. Text from popular culture is mixed with Māori text, and there are poems both contemporary and old. The music sometimes dramatizes these words, sometimes reflects on them"--SOUNZ web site.

Title  Te moana : for wind band / Anthony Ritchie.
Creator  Ritchie, Anthony
Publishing Details  [Wellington] : SOUNZ, [2016]
Publishing Source  Centre for New Zealand Music Trust, P.O. Box 10 042, Wellington, N.Z. ; info@sounz.org.nz ; http://www.sounz.org.nz
Format  1 study score (26 pages) ; 30 cm
Language  Staff notation.
Summary  "This piece was commissioned by The Royal New Zealand Navy Band based in Auckland, to celebrate its 75th centenary in 2016. It was written for an anniversary CD recording as well as live performance. Te Moana translates to 'The sea', and is inspired not just by this but also by the history of the Navy, and its crew who have faced many challenges over the years. The sea holds a special place in New Zealand culture, from the first arrivals on waka approximately 800 years ago, right through to recent missions undertaken by the Navy. Drowning at sea is sometimes referred to as the 'New Zealand death', and this piece begins with a short memorial for sailors lost in the line of duty. Following this, the music speeds up and captures the energy and bold spirit of the Navy, and this spirit pervades the rest of the piece. A quieter second theme provides contrast, and contemplates the vastness and beauty of the sea, enlivened with sea birds"--SOUNZ website.

| Summary          | "Pūrākaunui was commissioned by the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra for inclusion in their series entitled NZSO In Miniature, and is designed for community and schools audiences. The music was inspired by the beautiful seaside settlement of Pūrākaunui, situated near Dunedin, where the composer owns a holiday house. The beginning of the piece evokes the inlet early in the morning, with the quiet chatter of birds and shimmering of the sun on the sea. The oboe plays a bird call and it is answered on the flute and other wind instruments. The quiet throb of marimba and harp describes the tide slowly creeping into the inlet, and a soulful violin plays. The violin recalls sad times in Pūrākaunui’s past, the hard struggle for survival among the local Maori and the destruction of Nature: the bird life, whales, the bush. These thoughts are left behind as the music brightens into a climax and becomes much faster. It is summer in Pūrākaunui and children play in the inlet, swing from ropes, and jump off jetties into the sea. The sleepy village has become hive of activity, and peoples’ spirits are raised as they forget their troubles"--Publisher description. |

Title  Thoughts from an inner garden : a song cycle / poems by Diana Neutze ; music by Anthony Ritchie.
Creator  Ritchie, Anthony
Format  1 score (43 pages) ; 30 cm
Contents  One recurring theme -- Bridal -- Chronic -- And the birds sing -- A scent of water -- Meaning -- Goodbye.
Language  Staff notation.
Summary  "These songs were commissioned by poet Diana Neutze, for performance in her home, in Christchurch. The composer chose the seven texts to set in consultation with Diana, with reference to four volumes of her poetry. The choice of voice and instrumentation was, likewise, made in a collaborative fashion. The character of the songs is inspired by the poems, their ideas, images and sounds, and also from conversations between composer and poet. Diana suffered from multiple sclerosis for many years and the themes of life and death, and coping with suffering are significant in the song cycle. However, Nature also plays an important role in this work, with frequent references to the garden, birds and the elements. The whole cycle is also informed by the quotation in the last song, from Bach's Chaconne in D minor, from his Partita, referred to in the poem 'Goodbye'. The presence of the poet is also signified by the notes D-A-E, taken from Diana's name, which appear as a motif in the songs. The premiere was given at Diana's home in 2011 by Elizabeth Emeleus (mezzo soprano), Cathy Irons (violin), Anthony Ritchie (piano)."--Publisher's information.

Format  1 score (20 pages) ; 30 cm
Contents  Fanfare -- Aria for Anita -- Perpetua.
Language  Staff notation.
Summary  "These pieces were written to commemorate the passing of John Ritchie, composer and musician, and father of Anthony. They were commissioned by Margaret Nielsen, pianist and long-time friend of John Ritchie. The pieces attempt to capture different aspects of John's life. The Fanfare reflects his long involvement with the brass community, both in terms of brass bands and orchestral brass. It also has elements of humour, something John appreciated in the music of Malcolm Arnold and others. 'Aria for Anita' reflects on Anita Ritchie, John's wife and soprano, and references one of her favourite songs, 'Solveig's Song' by Grieg. 'Perpetua' uses a 4-note motif from John's Clarinet Concertino as a starting point, developing perpetual motion through repetition of rhythms and ideas. The title is also a reference to the old prayer ending " ... and let light perpetual shine upon him". The music fades into starry nothingness at the end"--Title page verso.

Title  Variations for G.B.P. : for violin and organ / Anthony Ritchie.
Creator  Ritchie, Anthony.
Format  1 score (19 pages) ; 30 cm
Language  Staff notation.
Summary  "This piece was commissioned by violinist, Tessa Petersen as a dedication to her father, George Bouet Petersen (G.B.P), a scientist and keen organist. The music celebrates aspects of George's life and work, including DNA sequencing and the origins of life as well as his love of music. It is a set of six variations on a long, lyrical theme that is played by the violin by itself initially, joined by the organ who plays it a 6th higher. This interval is significant in the music, which develops in an organic manner. There are sharp changes of mood along the way - for example, the playful variation 2 gives way to a rumbustious variation 3, which in turn leads to a lively, fast variation 4. Trumpets on the organ lead the way in variation 5, which flows into the celebratory variation 6, which is the last and the longest of the sections. The music ends in bright radiance"--Title page verso.

Title  Whispers of Gallipoli : for baritone and piano / by Anthony Ritchie.

Format  1 score (53 pages) ; 30 cm
Language  In English with some Māori. Staff notation.
Summary  "Commissioned by Robert Tucker for performances in 2015, commemorating 100 years since the ill-fated Gallipoli war campaign. These songs build a picture of events surrounding Gallipoli through extracts from poems, songs, diaries and interviews. We hear different perspectives: from eye-witness accounts, from anxious mothers, from officers in command, from poets looking back on the campaign, from death itself, personified. Text from popular culture is mixed with Māori text, and there are poems both contemporary and old. The music sometimes dramatizes these words, sometimes reflects on them"--SOUNZ web site.

Title: Artificial intolerance / Pitch Black.
Creator: Pitch Black (Musical group : N.Z.)
Publishing Details: [London] : [Dubmission], [2019]
Format: 1 online resource
Contents: “ ‘Artificial Intolerance,’ the first single from Pitch Black’s forthcoming album “Third Light”, finds the boys in a playful but questioning mood. The former is evident in the belting bass and bleep heavy breaks that make up the track, the latter in the samples about possible bias in the creation of artificial intelligence code. Numerous studies have highlighted that the majority of AI coders are Caucasian and male, and just as many have pointed out the problems that facial recognition programs have in processing people of colour. Then there are concerns about the growing quality of deepfakes and the creeping influence over our viewing and listening habits by recommendation system algorithms” says Mike. Paddy and I are far from luddites – we just like to keep an eye on developments, stay aware of the issues and question the alleged perfection of technological systems. After all, there are amazing developments happening in the area of neural networks, for example, where a teenager, Brittany Wenger, can create a "Global Neural Network Cloud Service for Breast Cancer" on her laptop in her bedroom. Stepping up on remix duties are two fellow Kiwis, Akcept and SUBSET, both of whom have made regular appearances on Pitch Black’s monthly radio show. Akcept has been making a name for himself in bass circles thanks to his signature blend of dub, roots and heavyweight dread, while SUBSET has been building fans for his deep dub techno sound”—Bandcamp site.

Summary "This symphony was composed for The Christchurch Symphony Orchestra with financial assistance from The University of Otago. It is in one movement, divided into 14 sections, or 'stations', and is to be performed without a break. It is dedicated to those in Christchurch who have suffered in the earthquakes. This symphony takes as its point of departure a book called The Way of the Cross, which combines images of sculptures by Llew Summers with poems by Bernadette Hall, both of which centre on the Christchurch Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament, in New Zealand. Llew Summers' sequence of 14 sculptures entitled The Stations of the Cross were created for the Cathedral in Christchurch in 2000, and outline the final events in the life of Jesus Christ. They caused controversy at the time, with their challenging re-interpretation of the traditional Christian images. Bernadette Hall's 14 poems followed some years later, and were informed by the sculptures. The poems and images of the sculptures were both published in the book The Way of the Cross in 2005. In 2011, the Catholic Cathedral was ruined in the second of the major earthquakes that shook Christchurch, and currently faces possible demolition. As a response to these events, this symphony includes several musical settings of Hall's poems. Not all the poems are set, however: some 'stations' are purely instrumental, forming musical meditations on the texts as well as suggesting other images and moods related to the earthquakes. The trials and suffering of Jesus Christ as depicted in the poems/sculptures become associated with the trials and suffering of a city. There are also personal associations in the music, deriving from the composer's own experiences in the Cathedral, both as a composer and as a member of the Cathedral choir in the late 1970s. Consequently, two quotations feature prominently: first from Palestrina's Missa Papae Marcelli (in Station 5) and second, from Bach's St John Passion (in Station 12). Therefore, elements of mythology and life experiences are brought together in this work. There is considerable cross-referencing of musical ideas between 'stations', and some re-cycling of material towards the end, as a sort of summary of themes. For example, the main themes from Station No. 4 return and are extended in station No. 13, and the quotation from Palestrina (transformed) also reappears at the climax of the work, at the start of Station No. 14"--SOUNZ web site.
