The New Zealand National Bibliography (NZNB) contains catalogue records for the New Zealand imprint. It is produced monthly (12 issues per year). The National Library of New Zealand has responsibility for producing the Bibliography. Most of the material listed is received by the National Library of New Zealand under the Legal Deposit provisions of the National Library (Te Puna Mātauranga o Aotearoa) Act 2003. It contains New Zealand and Tokelau resources, both physical and digital, including books, serials, newspapers, maps, music, websites and podcasts. Items are included after they have been received at the National Library. The records are created in accordance with international cataloguing standards.

This document contains all the items that have been catalogued during the month of October 2020. The items are grouped by format and then separated into digital and physical. Within each format grouping the items are arranged alphabetically by title.

Summary  "Georgia Grayson has perfected the art of being two people: a neurosurgeon on track to becoming the first female Director of Neurosurgery at a large London hospital, and a wife and mother. Home is her haven where, with husband Adam's support, she copes with her occasional anxiety attacks. That is until her daughter, 15-year-old Lara, demands to know more about Danny, her mysterious biological father from New Orleans who died before she was born. Trouble is, Georgia can't tell her. As escalating panic attacks prevent her from operating, and therapy fails to bring back the memories she has repressed, fractures rip through her once happy family. Georgia sees only one way forward; to return to New Orleans where Danny first sang his way into her heart, and then to the rugged island where he fell to his death. Somehow she must uncover the truth Lara deserves, whatever the cost"--Back cover.

Summary: "This quartet for bassoon and string trio operates as a duo between bassoon and violin, in which these instruments are coloured, commented on, resonated and shadowed by, respectively, viola and cello. The bassoon and violin exist in a world of traditional notation while the musical materials of their auxiliaries 'float' in relation to them. I'm seeking simultaneous strictness and looseness, the tightness of the traditionally-scored interactions between bassoon and violin mitigated by the spacetime, reactive commentaries of their pairings. Double duo builds on Tag (and release) (2012) and Sudry good (2014), works which freed me from the constraints of computer feedback during their composition and the necessity of a conductor during performance"--SOUNZ website.

Along the way it takes in the madness of crochet hook sizing, cats and their assorted lunacies, shopping for swimwear, the unfortunate end to the author’s brief stint as a Disneyesque princess, and, of course, why she has the ambition of a potato. Bonus material appearing only in this book includes eight ways to fail to assassinate Fidel Castro and three ways to react to the assassination of a royal relative, as well as a soupçon of non-assassinatory content"--Publisher information.

Summary: The collapse of South Canterbury Finance (SCF) is one of the biggest New Zealand stories of the last decade. The sweep of events, from Timaru to the Beehive, includes some of the most revealing moments on issues critical to this country - from poor governance and systemic issues in the finance sector, through to the structural risks this exposed and the costs it ultimately presented to all New Zealanders. The Billion Dollar Bonfire sets out to tell this story from an "insider" perspective. Chris Lee is a long-standing New Zealand financial advisor and a protagonist in the narrative. He knew Allan Hubbard personally and, from the late 1990s, had clients invest with SCF. This is a book written with passion and purpose. As Lee makes plain, this could all happen again unless significant changes are made to our law and the culture of the capital markets industry. So the book is underpinned by substantial research: thousands of documents (including new material from OIAs and other sources) and interviews, both public... and anonymous, with many of the key figures.

Summary: "If an entire country becomes uninhabitable, if Pacific peoples seek refuge here, how would we honour the rights of a country destroyed by the climate, and not cause further injustice in light of Te Tiriti o Waitangi and our failure to honour Māori sovereignty in Aotearoa?" The world is heating up beyond the capacity of some countries to cope. Entire populations of Pacific island are threatened, jeopardising the sovereign rights of these countries and the security of the region. This book explores what a just response to the risk of climate change displacement in the Pacific could look like"--Back of print version.

Summary  "Her brother warned her off Army boys, yet the moment Nico walked into the salon, Brooklyn was blindsided by their undeniable chemistry. Powerful and bold, charged, and explosive. Despite falling hard and fast, Nico desperately tried to push away the woman he loved in order to protect her from a heart-shattering prophecy. Brooklyn didn't believe the ill-fated prediction and vowed to wait as long as it took for Neek to come back to her; she knew in her soul that he would. Only, she couldn’t anticipate what the destruction of war could do to a man. Traumatised. Haunted. Fragmented beyond repair. A trail of destruction was left after a deployment went horribly wrong, and it threatened to tear Brooklyn apart. As truths become exposed and guilt claws at the last threads of sanity, can Brooklyn set free the man that is gone forever?"—Back cover.

She's been ripping off the system and flying under the radar her entire life. Until now. Asher’s her “cargo”, a Phoenixae alien who accidentally hatched from the egg she was transporting, and bonded with her. He's been bred as a sex slave and he can read her mind. And then there's the small issue that if Asher is killed and his body burnt, he can be resurrected. He's one hot commodity that illegals will kill to possess. Take one sex-deprived space courier who'll risk everything to save a Phoenixae alien from a life of slavery. Add one mouthwateringly hot alien sex-slave who knows her deepest desires, feels her pain, and lives to please her in every way. Mix with a ruthless ex-husband intent on vengeance. When rural banker Richard Harper is reported missing, DSS John (Archie) Baldrick and DC Ben Travers are drawn into the tangled details of the man's life. Would Harper really have chosen to leave his seriously ill wife, and abandon his pregnant girlfriend? Or is there a real threat behind the abusive emails he'd been receiving from desperate clients in the wake of the Global Financial Crisis? On the home front, Archie's marriage is rocky and his two teenage daughters are giving him all sorts of trouble. The frail but beautiful Helena Harper and her magnificent house offer an oasis of calm as Archie struggles to discover who is responsible for her husband's disappearance. Has he really been abducted, tortured or killed? Or is Richard Harper himself behind everything that has happened? Summary  "Kat Meyer sleepwalks - buck naked, just to make it even more humiliating. And her cat seems determined to be a cat-burglar extraordinaire and has now gravitated to stealing rings. Specifically, Jace Burton's granddaddy's ring. And Jace just happens to be the big-shot architect Kat is vying with the other designers to work with. When Jace wakes in the middle of the night to find a naked Kat in his living room, he's inclined to believe her bizarre tale. And did he mention she was gorgeous? He's beyond grateful to learn that Kat's found his grandfather's missing ring. But Jace is appalled to think of what harm might have befallen Kat while she prowled the streets naked at night. She's gotten right under his skin and all his protective instincts kick in with a vengeance. It's sure no hardship to escort her safely home - nor to help her figure out how'n the heck she's getting out of her deadlocked house at night. But then the unbelievable truth smacks Jace right between the eyes, and he doesn't know what the hell to think. Should he hide what he's seen from the woman he's fallen head over heels for? Or reveal the truth and risk losing her forever..."--Blurb.

Summary "The devastating summer of Australian bushfires underlined a terrifying sense of a world pushed to the brink. Then came Covid-19, and with it another dramatic lurch away from business as usual. Some observers are worried that the all-consuming effort to control the pandemic will distract us from the long term challenge of limiting catastrophic climate change. At the same time, many people are hoping for a ‘green Covid-19 recovery’: a cleaner, fairer and safer world. This BWB Text brings together Mātauranga Māori and Pasifika perspectives, voices from academia, activism, journalism and economics to bear witness to these troubled

It explains how we are changed emotionally, how memory and thinking are distorted, and the psychological consequences that follow. Home is her haven where, with husband Adam's support, she copes with her occasional anxiety attacks. That is until her daughter, 15-year-old Lara, demands to know more about Danny, her mysterious biological father from New Orleans who died before she was born. Trouble is, Georgia can't tell her. As escalating panic attacks prevent her from operating, and therapy fails to bring back the memories she has repressed, fractures rip through her once happy family. Georgia sees only one way forward; to return to New Orleans where Danny first sang his way into her heart, and then to the rugged island where he fell to his death. Somehow she must uncover the truth Lara deserves, whatever the cost"--Back cover of print version.

They're on a mission to find husbands who are at least twice-removed relations. If this means a few of their mother’s rules need to be bent, then so be it. Shame then it’s them helping a friend that has everything blowing up in their faces, throwing their mission into jeopardy and proving beyond doubt you can say as many hail Marys as you like and it won’t make a blind bit of difference to a bad boy cop who’s on a mission of his own"--Author's website.

Title  Scent of a man : a scentinels novel / by Maree Anderson.
Creator  Anderson, Maree, 1965-
ISBN  9780995139923 online
Format  1 online resource
Summary  "Joseph is an Anglian noble living in a harshly religious society where the Council and their clerics enforce chastity, and women are oppressed and treated as chattel. Overnight, Joseph undergoes a rare transformation and becomes a Scentinel, a man who exudes powerful sexual pheromones that make him irresistible to females. His people believe he is evil and will execute him on sight. He’s on the run, starving and desperate. Liliana is a “morally corrupt” Europan woman with an agenda. She’s a creature even rarer than Joseph, a Null who can neutralize Scentinel pheromones. Her mission is to do whatever it takes to bring Joseph safely to Europan shores. There, he’ll join Empress Vashti’s elite band of Scentinel spies - provided he survives his training with his sanity intact, and learns how to suppress his pheromones at will. And falling in love with the man she must ultimately betray was never part of Liliana’s plan"—Blurb.

Summary  "Three families have a story in the past and the present. They are linked by an old lady's search for the truth. When Kalle Kennedy visits her Great Grandmother, Jennifer Simpson, she finds that the report of the family's genealogist and Jennifer's childhood recollections of stories told to her have parallels in the present. In present day New Zealand, Kalle Kennedy disappears. She is drugged and tortured in a secret Interrogation Centre. On her release, she searches for her boyfriend, Marti Carter, who has also disappeared. Realisation of the reasons for her abduction lead Kalle to discover a White Supremacist plot against New Zealand's Moslem community. In 1801, Peter Field is press-ganged into service in King George III's Royal Navy to fight against Bonaparte's attempt to close the Baltic to the British. While preparing gunpowder supplies for the Battle of Copenhagen, Peter uncovers a plot to blow up the Admiralty. Peter's disappearance from the village of Highbeech leaves Isabella Blyde in limbo. She is attacked and left for dead. The Pajaris are merchants from Finland who are caught up in the political struggle to keep the Baltic trade routes open. A series of attacks on Riku Pajari seem to be the work those opposed to the Abolition of Slavery but Juho Pajari suspects his first born, Philip, is behind the attacks"--Publisher information.

<td>&quot;A stolen nest egg, historic art thefts, and politically-charged B&amp;D? Life's never boring when Brenda is around. Brenda Munroe was mercenary even as a child. From stealing school lunches, she'd moved onto bigger, better and even legal things. But stuck thousands of miles from home and broke, it's going to take every ounce of her street smarts to survive this time. Brenda opens a residential school for girls, teaching them how to get by on good looks and a bucket-load of charm. Will her students be the only ones learning new skills, or will Brenda finally understand family’s about a whole lot more than the blood relations you’ve been lumbered with?&quot;--Author's website.</td>

The cry of the earth and the cry of the poor: hearing justice in John's gospel / Kathleen P. Rushton.

Rushton, Kathleen P, (Kathleen Patricia), 1947-.

ISBN 0334059054
9780334059059 paperback

Summary "Despite the explicit proclamation in John's Gospel of the 'Word made flesh' it is hard to hear or preach such an esoteric Gospel in a way which offers something concrete, relevant and timely for congregations. Focused around the lectionary readings from the Gospel, "The Cry of the Earth and the Cry of the Poor" suggests that far from being a Gospel which sits at a safe remove from every day life, it can in fact be preached and read as an urgent call to hear the voices of the oppressed in our world. Encouraging preachers and those in the pews to engage in the ancient practice of lectio divina, the book offers an accessible resource to help address the divorce between what is heard from pulpit, and the urgent social and ecological justice concern of our times"--Back cover.

Summary  "Her brother warned her off Army boys, yet the moment Nico walked into the salon, Brooklyn was blindsided by their undeniable chemistry. Powerful and bold, charged, and explosive. Despite falling hard and fast, Nico desperately tried to push away the woman he loved in order to protect her from a heart-shattering prophecy. Brooklyn didn't believe the ill-fated prediction and vowed to wait as long as it took for Neek to come back to her; she knew in her soul that he would. Only, she couldn't anticipate what the destruction of war could do to a man. Traumatised. Haunted. Fragmented beyond repair. A trail of destruction was left after a deployment went horribly wrong, and it threatened to tear Brooklyn apart. As truths become exposed and guilt claws at the last threads of sanity, can Brooklyn set free the man that is gone forever?" -- Back cover.

She can’t remember anything about the meltdown or her life in Corstorphine. No one talks about it, including her parents. For the first time in her life, Cary has more than one friend. She’s even falling for someone. Will her obsession with the past derail everything? When videos taken behind the cordon surface on social media, they trigger memories from Cary’s past and she is compelled to break into The Zone in the search for answers. The secrets she uncovers are not confined to the past, or the boundaries of The Zone. Can Cary separate the truth from the lies, including the ones told to her by her own family? Contents: Introduction to this inquiry -- The Treaty context -- Is the Crown's approach to overlapping settlement redress Treaty compliant? -- The individual iwi experience -- Tribunal analysis and findings on Crown policies, processes and practices -- Ngāti Porou ki Hauraki -- Summary of findings and recommendations.

Summary: "At the heart of this report are allegations by four claimant groups that the Crown breached the principles of the Treaty of Waitangi through the flawed overlapping claims policies, processes, and practices it adopted when negotiating collective and individual settlement deeds with Hauraki iwi. The claimants say, as a result, Hauraki iwi were incorrectly offered redress within the claimants' rohe. The claimants contend existing and potential settlements were thus undermined, their mana whenua and mana moana rights compromised, and their rangatiratanga and tikanga diminished"--Page xv.

Summary
"Born in Hamilton in 1950 with a penchant for drama, Anne Manchester was perplexed by her remote mother and frustrated by the strictures of a post-war upbringing. She launched into university life at full tilt, demonstrating against the Vietnam War, waitressing in Suzy's Coffee Lounge, losing her virginity to a gay man, taking part in university revues with Roger Hall and, despite her feminist beliefs, found herself crowned Miss Victoria University of Wellington. Anne began work as a film editor and took off on her OE, bringing an English husband home with her. They moved into a cottage in Eastbourne, where Anne has lived ever since, through the raising of two firecracker sons and the loss of one through a tragic accident, an unstinting passion for theatre, a controversial role as co-editor of Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand, divorce, remarriage and the joys of becoming a grandmother. Memory Stick is the story of a passionate woman living in the thick of things over seventy years of societal and cultural change, and weathering her share of loss, heartbreak and mistakes with courage and chutzpah"--Publisher's description.

Summary "Georgia Grayson has perfected the art of being two people: a neurosurgeon on track to becoming the first female Director of Neurosurgery at a large London hospital, and a wife and mother. Home is her haven where, with husband Adam's support, she copes with her occasional anxiety attacks. That is until her daughter, 15-year-old Lara, demands to know more about Danny, her mysterious biological father from New Orleans who died before she was born. Trouble is, Georgia can't tell her. As escalating panic attacks prevent her from operating, and therapy fails to bring back the memories she has repressed, fractures rip through her once happy family. Georgia sees only one way forward; to return to New Orleans where Danny first sang his way into her heart, and then to the rugged island where he fell to his death. Somehow she must uncover the truth Lara deserves, whatever the cost"--Back cover.

Summary: "The Waitangi Tribunal has declared that in the Treaty of Waitangi, Māori agreed to a dual-sovereignty partnership in New Zealand. The chiefs understood that the Governor would have authority over Europeans, whilst Māori would retain full sovereignty over themselves. But is this true? What does the Treaty actually say? And what do the records show of Māori understanding at the time the Treaty was debated? The history of Crown/ Māori conflict in our nation is also now being reinterpreted through the partnership prism. The new view is that the conflict reflected Māori pursuit of the dual-sovereignty partnership allegedly promised in the Treaty. But is this true? What were the conflicts really about? And what were Māori leaders saying about Crown sovereignty during these conflicts? ONE SUN IN THE SKY presents an evidence-based perspective on the question of sovereignty and the Treaty of Waitangi. Whilst a supporter of the Treaty settlements process, Ewen McQueen raises serious questions about the new paradigm of Treaty interpretation. In this book he reviews the historical evidence for how the Treaty was understood by Māori and Pakeha both at the time it was signed in 1840, and for the century which followed. The story he uncovers is rarely heard today. But it is a story which needs telling. Thoroughly researched and fully referenced, this book is a must-read for all New Zealanders. Not just because truth telling about our history is crucial to the future of race relations in our nation - but because our journey together has been a remarkable story"--Back story.

Centred in Hataitai, 3.5 km from the city centre, it also includes photos from the neighbouring suburbs of Kilbirnie, Lyall Bay, Newtown, Oriental Bay, Rongotai, and Roseneath ... ISBN  9781988538327 paperback
Format  223 pages : colour illustrations ; 24 cm

What is wrong with him?' If these questions sound familiar, then this is the book for you. The first three months may have passed by in a bit of a blur, but you made it. However, you probably don't quite feel like you have achieved expert status . . . yet. Enter the original baby-whisperer-to-the-stars, Dorothy Waide. Simply Parenting: From 12 Weeks to 12 Months picks up where Dorothy's first book You Simply Can't Spoil a Newborn left off, outlining all the parenting options from the end of the newborn stage until the beginning of toddlerhood, using matter-of-fact language to gently guide you to make the decisions that are right for you and your baby. Whether you want to try the routine-based approach or if it suits you better to be more flexible - regardless of whether you are breast- or bottle-feeding, co-sleeping or swaddling - this book outlines all the options clearly and without judgement. Stories from our Backroads: North Island will introduce you to some fascinating stories of tracks, trails and back roads across the North Island. Many of them cross through forgotten parts of the country, and all of them have their own rich and exciting stories. Whether they follow the route of Māori foot trails or the path of early European settlers, each adds something to our history. For example, the track up the Kauaeranga Valley has seen Māori inhabitants, who named the place after the river in flood - Kauarenga means 'no crossing here' - then came the kauri fellers, who were followed by gold miners. All of them adding something new to the valley's story"--Publisher's website.

Format 237 pages ; 19 cm
Summary "Like many adopted children, filmmaker Barbara Sumner yearned to know who her mother was. New Zealand's closed adoption laws made that almost impossible and coloured her chaotic adolescence and adult life. When she finally tracked her mother down, a longed-for reunion ended in tragedy. This ... memoir explores Sumner's conviction that everyone who loses their mother suffers some degree of physiological damage. They are all grafted onto the tree of strangers"--Publisher's information sheet.

9780473499617 paperback
Format 277 pages, 16 unnumbered pages of plates : illustrations (some colour), portraits (some colour) ; 23 cm
Summary "Former editor Jenny Lynch takes the wraps off the unreported side of life in print, explodes myths, unearths secrets and shows that even on seemingly conservative publications such as the New Zealand Woman's Weekly things were seldom exactly as they seemed. Her memoir, aptly titled Under the Covers, is a revealing account of what went on behind the closed doors of various editorial offices and newsrooms during one of the most colourful periods in magazine and newspaper history. Lynch's 30-year path to her top job was full of drama and off-beat activities. But nothing she had experienced before she became editor of the Weekly prepared her for the challenges that lay ahead. Indeed, the magazine's battle for dominance in what became known as The Magazine Wars was fought against a backdrop of management turbulence and ownership changes"--Page 4 of cover.

Title: Social Wellbeing Agency = Toi Hau Tāgata.

Format: Web site.

Frequency: Irregular

Summary: "We're a small government agency with a big reach across the social system. We take a broad view, looking at issues that New Zealanders face but don’t fit neatly into the work of a single agency. This allows us to get actionable insights to decision-makers, and ensure that real people – whānau and communities – are involved in and benefit from the work we do. Ultimately, we want to achieve sustainable improvements for the wellbeing of New Zealanders. We use a broad and inclusive set of wellbeing measures that tell us whether people are leading full, meaningful lives. We create tools and practices to target gaps in the social sector's knowledge. We partner with the social sector, combining science, data and lived experience to draw insights that are enriched by whānau voices. Formerly the Social Investment Agency, we became the Social Wellbeing Agency on 19 March 2020. "--About us page.
